RATISBON, March 23.

The Ministers of the Ecclefiaftical Princes are ufing their utmoft efforts to prevent the execution of the article of the treaty of peace concerning fecularizations. It appears that they have received from their Conftituents orders to unite; and to avert by meafures taken in conjunction with each other, the ftorm which threatens them. The Elector of Cologne and the Bifhop of Wurtzburg, feem defirous of putting themfelves at their head. It is in contemplation to make a formal proteft againft general fecularizations. We are affured they will fend deputies to Vienna, Paris and Berlin, to demand that the Princes and States difpoffeffed on the left bank of the Rhine fhall be indemnified on the right bank by the empire in general; and that each ftate fhall contribute its quota towards the indemnification. It is alfo propofed to apply to the Emperor of Ruffia to intercede in their behalf, fince if the principle of general fecularization fhould be adopted, the German Conftitution would be annihilated. They propofe particularly to reprefent to the court of Vienna, that they have always been its fupport, and that by their fuppreffion it will lofe the greater part of its influence in the Empire. On the other hand, the Auftrian government demands that a deputation of two Members of the Diet fhall co-operate in the negociations relative to indemnities; it is defirous that the Electors of Mentz and Saxony fhould be nominated to the deputation: but the King of Pruffia is equally defirous to co-operate and to be a member of the deputation.

Head-quarters at Milan, April 2.

I take the earlieft opportunity of communicating to you the news which I have received from general Murat, the commander in chief. He announced to me that the peace with the court of Naples was figned on the 29th of March. In confequence of the conditions of this peace, the advanced guard of the army of obfervation of the South, confifting of 12,000 men, has fet out on its march to occupy the peninfula of Tarentum and Otranto, following the line of Gravina, as far as the mouth of the Bradano at the fea. Another divifion, of about 4090 men, will occupy Pefcara, extending its advanced pofts as far as Sangro, without paffing that limit. The court of Naples renounces the ifland of Elba, and all its right in Tufcany. All the articles of the armiftice, which concern the Englifh and Turks, will be religioufly obferved.

According to intelligence which arrived here from Naples, on the evening of the 30th of March, it appears certain, that the Englifh have been beaten in Egypt, and obliged to re-embark. Communicate, citizen, if you pleafe, this joyful news to the Cifalpine government, and accept of my fentiments of efteem and friendfhip.
