of Mercersburg, Pa. A geologist of note in Franklin County and recognized as such by the National Societies of Geneological Research. A Charter Member of our chapter through whose untiring efforts over a long period of years has made the publishing of these Records possible.

F O R E W O R D

The names of all the Revolutionary Soldiers who have been born, died, or have been buried in Franklin County are included in this book as accurately as possible.

Mrs. Virginia Shannon Fendrick of Mercersburg, Penna., our late Chapter Genealogist and Historian, spent many years searching for data in Court Records, Genealogical, Historical and Ramily Records, also in the files of old newspapers. The record of every soldier herein has been carefully proven.

Many thousands of pioneers and their families came through the port of Philadelphia into Lancaster County, Pennsylvania which, after the Revolution, was divided into five counties of which Franklin County is one. From Franklin County many settlers moved on into Western Pennsylvania, then into Ohio and Indiana and later to the far West. Many went over into Maryland and others settled in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, still others moved into North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee.

In publishing these Records we hope to preserve this valuable information for their descendants.

Camp, at Totowa, Oct. 25, '80.

Dear Sir:

I did myself the honor to address you the 17th Instant, and took the liberty to ask for a quantity of thread and needles, to be forwarded by Mr. Little; but as he came away without them, I must beg leave to reiterate my request, and desire that they may be sent on with all possible dispatch, as every day adds to our distress, and renders an immediate supply of these articles indispensably necessary—I believe no army before this was ever put to such shifts, in order to have even the appearance of uniformity—when the charge of the Penna. Division devolved on me after the removal of Gen'l. St. Clair to the Command of the left wing, I thought of an expedient of reducing the heterogeneity of new, old, cock'd and floped hats and pieces of hats, to Infantry Caps, in which we succeeded very well—by making three decent caps out of one tolerable and two very ordinary hats, to which we added, as an embellishment, a white plume, and a Comb of flowing red hair. We now shall try the experiment of making three short coats out of three old tattered long ones. I must acknowledge they would answer much better for the Spring than fall; but without something done in this way, we shall be naked in the course of two or three weeks; nor will even this expedient answer longer than Christmas—For God's sake, use every possible means to procure Cloathing for both officers and men, by that time, at furthest.

Signed Ant'y Wayne.

JAMES BARR

Appears as a Soldier from Westmoreland Co., Penna., in the Cont. Line, also as a Lieut. of Rangers. The above man was a son of Thomas Barr, an early settler near Fort Loudon. Rupp gives a letter from Sheriff John Potter, concerning the burning of Matthew Patton's house, Nov., 1755, stating "another on fire, that of Mesach James," about one mile up the creek from Thos' Barr's. Barr's son was wounded, and the Indians burned Barr's house and in it consumed their dead. In 1769, James Barr and wife Mary appear as a family, in the vicinity of Fort Loudon. They had baptized, by Rev. John King, of Upper West Conococheague Presbyterian Church, Margaret, May 13, 1770; Sarah, Oct. 8, 1771; Janet, Oct. 3, 1772; Thomas, Nov. 9, 1774. Undoubtedly Thomas Barr had died and his family in 1769 is shown as: Janet Barr; Robert Barr; Alexander Barr; David Barr; Sara Hutchinson; James Hamilton. From the Survey, the Barr tract was granted May 5, 1744, to Thos. Barr, and in June, 1774, the heirs sell: Janet Barr; James Barr and wife Mary; Robert Barr and wife Mary; Cumb. Co., Peters Twp., Penna.; They sell to Robert and Samuel Walker of same, for 1200 pounds land in Peters Twp., by North Mountain, Thos. McDowell, James Dickey, Robert Campbell, West Conococheague Creek, Enoch James; Middle tract from the Proprietaries March 1, 1737, granted to David Huston and from him to Saml. Moorehead, and from Moorehead to Thos. Barr, decd.; 259 acres, survey, Oct. 26, 1767; several tracts. Wit: John Walker and Alexdr. McConnell. Vol. 23, p. 283.

ROBERT BARR

Appears as a Soldier in the Cont. Line, from Westmoreland Co., Penna. He was a son of Thomas Barr from vicinity of Fort Loudon. He married Mary Williamson, Apr. 23, 1771, and they had issue: Thomas, baptized by Rev. John King, Feb. 10, 1773; 3 children baptized for Robert Barr's wife, Feb. 21, 1778; The death of Robert Barr's child Jan. 10, 1772. It is quite probable that the Barrs, like many other early settlers, left their family, over the winter months, in Franklin County. It is proven in a number of cases. The tract of land upon which Barr's Fort was built, was located Apr. 3, 1769—warranted and granted to Robert Barr, for whom it was surveyed in 1789. One of the adjoining parties was James Barr, Esq. Barr's Fort stood about a mile north of New Derry, Wallace's Fort about five miles distant, and on one occasion, the "signs" of Indians had been seen in the woods for some days. Major Wilson, with a few of his men, found the Indians too numerous for his little band and they were compelled to retreat. About a mile from Wallace's (Alexander?) Barr was killed. Robert Barr, also fell, fighting manfully with the butt of his gun. Major Wilson shot one of the Indians, who fell dead on Barr. The next instant a tomahawk was buried in Barr's skull. In 1796, Thomas Barr, eldest son of Robert Barr, decd. conveyed to Wm. Gilson, the land granted to Robert Barr, by location in 1769. This fort was originally the house of the pioneer Barr, but later a stockade fort, and in the graveyard on this place, is the grave of Major James Wilson, and many early settlers, probably the oldest burying ground in that section.

Three members of the family came to America one settled in east Jersey, another in eastern Penna., and all trace of the third is lost. Col. Cook was among the few early settlers who clustered around Fort Bird immediately after the successful expedition of Forbes against Fort Duquesne in the summer of 1758. He became active in guiding the affairs of the western region. He was made magistrate of Bedford and also one of the first magistrates on the formation of Westmoreland County; a member of the Provincial Congress that convened in Carpenter's Hall in Phila., June 18, 1776, and drafted the Declaration of Independence presented to Congress June 26, 1776. Col. Cook was a member of the State Constitutional Convention and Sept. 28, 1776 was made the first Commissioner of Exchange and was appointed Sub-lieutenant of Westmoreland Co., March 21, 1777; later lieutenant to succeed Col. Archbd. Lochry who was killed by Indians; he was also commander of the Rangers and all thru the Revolution he served his country with exceptional valor. He later became Justice of Fayette County. At the close of the war Col. Cook retired to his mansion in Fayette County. He founded the Rehoboth Church and continued to serve his country as a representative to the General Assembly; a member of the commission that located the County seats, Nov. 1786; Justice of the Peace; Associate Judge of Fayette Co., in 1791; Chairman of the Mingo Creek meeting at Parkinson Ferry, Gallitin acting as Secretary at the meeting. The old Cook mansion is about a mile back from the Monongahela at Fayette City, fifty miles up from Pittsburgh, Pa., and is a fine specimen of colonial architecture, completed by Col. Cook in 1776 after four years of ceaseless labor. The walls of stone were three feet thick, the doors built double, the interior finished in cherry and walnut, with floors of oak. It is said that both Washington and Jefferson were frequent visitors at the Cook Mansion. In 1882 Hist. of Westmoreland Co., Penna. p. 203, adds to above that Edward Cook presided at the Court sitting at Hannastown when it was attacked and burnt by the Indians and Tories. In "Early Western Penna. Politics" by Dr. Russell J. Ferguson, he states that, "Edwd. Cook was a farmer, distiller, storekeeper and slave-owner; he had sprung from English parents in the Cumberland Valley in Penna., and had arrived in Westmoreland County in 1772; subsequently a frontier soldier, Justice of the Peace of Westmoreland and Washington Counties; Associate Judge in Fayette County; interested in establishing the Pittsburgh Academy in 1787, and agent in terminating the Whiskey Insurrection." Col. Edward Cook mar. Martha, dau. of Edward Crawford, Sr., of Fayetteville, Franklin County. She was born 1743, died 1837. His stone in Rehoboth Church Graveyard, shows dates 1738-1808. The will of Edward Cook of Fayette Co., Pa., names wife Martha; Son James to pay bequests to "Joseph Bryan who mar. my grandau, Mary Cook, and to Dorcas Cook and Eliza or Elizabeth Cook, my granddaus." To grandson Edward Cook; Dated Sept. 17, 1808; prob., Dec. 8, 1808.

COMMODORE JESSE D. ELLIOTT

Born, Hagerstown, Md., July 14, 1782; appointed a midshipman, Apr. 2, 1804, by President Jefferson; promoted to a lieutenantcy, April 10, 1810. In 1812, he was attached to the command of Commodore Isaac Chauncey at Sackett's Harbor. On the declaration of war against Great Britain he was sent to the upper lakes to purchase naval vessels and make preparations for the creation of a naval force on those waters. In October, 1812, while at Black Rock, he commanded a boat expedition which, in the night, boarded and captured two British brigs lying under the guns of Fort Erie. For this he received the thanks of Congress, $12,000. for himself and his men, and a sword which was presented to him by the President of the United States. In July, 1813, he was promoted and in command of the Niagara. At Perry's victory, September, 1813, he was second in command and received for his gallantry a gold medal from Congress. In October, 1813, he succeeded Commodore Perry in command on Lake Erie. In 1815, was in command of the Ontario on the Mediterranean Squadron. March 17, 1818, he was promoted to the rank of Captain, and till 1842, was engaged in locating light-houses, dockyards, and fortifications on the coast. As a commodore he commanded the West India squadron, the Charlestown navy yard, the Mediterranean squadron and the navy yard of Philadelphia. His home was for many years in Carlisle, Penna. He died in Philadelphia, Dec. 18, 1845.

Centennial Memorial Presbytery of Carlisle, p. 343.

Fannett Township, formed in 1761, originally embraced the territory now within the township of Metal. Path Valley was in old times called the "Tuscarora Path" and the Indian title was only extinguished by the treaty with the Six Nations, at Easton, Oct. 23, 1758. It was here at "Elliotts," a Fort was erected, with an Officer and 20 men, for the winter season of 1764. "Three or more lovely springs come gushing up here and there, and Marsh run sends its curves through the entire farm." An old stone wall survives to tell the tale; as yet, no Tablet to mark the spot. Survey Books show a warrant to John Elliott for 150 acres May 14, 1755, also a warrant to John Elliott, Jr., for 176 acres which he conveyed to John Elliott, Sr., June 5, 1762, with William and Robert Elliott as neighbors. A Deed gives the following: John Elliott, Sr., of Fannett Twp., and Francis, his wife, sold to James Morton of Bedford Co., Penna., for 50 pounds, 100 acres land granted to John Elliott, June, 1762, between the burnt Cabbins and the road that goes from Path Valley to the "Shades of Death" at the foot of Tuscaroro Mountains.

WILLIAM ELLIOTT

In 1769, William Elliott was living with his brother Johnston within the bounds of the "Upper West Cononocheague" Presby. Church of Mercersburg. He mar. Ruth Crawford, born Nov. 11, 1754, dau. of Edward Crawford of near Fayetteville, Pa. Baptisms for William Elliott by Dr. John King: Eleanor, Apr. 19, 1778; Betsy, June 10, 1781; Child, Feb. 13, 1783; Rebecca, Oct. 25, 1800; child for Mrs. Elliott, March, 1802. Mr. J. V. Thompson, of Uniontown, Penna., has a list of eleven children which he credits to the above William Elliott. William Elliott moved to Western Penna., where he was killed by the limb of a tree falling on him. A Westmoreland County Hist., states: John C. Plummer, b. 1788, mar. 2nd Dec., 1828, Maria Elliott of Fayette Co., Penna., whose parents Col. William and Ruth (Crawford) Elliott removed from Franklin County and settled near Brownsville, Penna. Penna. Arch. 5th Ser. Vol. 6, p. 275, 282.

JOHN ELLIOTT

Quarter Sessions Docket, Carlisle, Penna., John Elliott Constable in Fannett Twp., in 1765. John Elliott was in Fannett Twp., in 1755, as shown in surveys, and he appears to have gone there with Richard Childerstone (Chillison) where they jointly took up land in 1761. St. Paul's Church Phila. records the marriage of Richard Childerstone to Frances Knot, July 27, 1764. The first wife of John Elliott is said to have been Patience Quigly (?) and he married as second wife, Frances, widow of Richard Chillison, as he gave it in his will. After years of search and study on the line of John Elliott above, the following is considered as authentic: To wife Frances the third of all my movable property, and one mare to be chused by her out of all I have &c. My dau. Margaret. She appears to have married Garrett Pendergrass, the younger, "late of Bedford Co., who was killed at Harrodsburg, Ky., March 28, 1777. Bedford Co., Penna., May 18, 1779, Letters of Admr. on estate of Garret Pendergrass, late of Bedford Co., Penna., were granted to James Elliott, highest creditor. They had a son Jesse, born prior to 1777, who mar. Patsy Moore, in Shelby Co., Ky., Apr. 24, 1797. (2) Garrett Elliott Pendergrast, b. 1776 at Harrodsburg, died 1850 at Louisville, Ky. (3) Patience Pendergrast mar. in Shelby Co., Ky., Sept. 18, 1797, Thomas Theobald. Her brothers Jesse and Garrett Pendergrast were her witnesses: (4) Polly Pendergrast, no record. Margaret Pendergrast, after the death of her husband Garret, about 1782 or '83 mar. a man named Wilson, and the Wilson-Elliott descendants say he was William Wilson, brother of Capt. Robert Wilson who had mar. Jane Elliott. Court records of Jefferson Co., Ky., show that Jesse Pendergrass, an infant son and heir of Garrett Pendergrass, decd., made proof by the Oath of Margaret Pendergrass, widow, of said decedent, that the said Garrett acted under a warrant or brevet as second in command of a company of guides to the Armies Commanded by General Forbes, in the year 1758, and by General Stanwix in 1759. That he was engaged in the said service by Col. Adam Steven and continued therein till he was regularly discharged. "To my son James Elliott." Under Provincial Officers for Cumb. Co., Penna., James Elliott appointed Justice of the Peace, May 9, 1767. "To my son John Elliott." The data which follow were obtained from the papers on file in pension claim, S42701, based upon the Revolutionary War service of John Elliott: The date and place of birth and the names of the parents of John Elliott are not shown. While a resident of Cumberland County, Penna., he was commissioned Jan. 3, 1777, Lieut. in Capt. Benjamin Burd's Company, Colonel Cadwalader's and Lieut. Col. William Butler's Fourth Penna. Regt.; was in the battles of Brandywine, Paoli and Germantown and served to March or April, 1778. He was allowed pension on his application executed August 12, 1818, while a resident of Allegheny Co., Penna. On Aug. 8, 1820, he was a resident of Canton, Stark Co., Ohio, and aged seventy-five years, eight months and seventeen days. His wife, Catherine, maiden name not given, was then aged about fifty-five years. There are no further family data. The soldier, John Elliott, died in August, 1826, place not stated.

"To my son William Elliott," I bequeath my silver watch. This is William Elliott, Esq., who married Rosanna Craig. It is proven by a deed from John Elliott, Township of Fannett, Farmer, to "my son William Elliott, 200 acres, land in the Northernmost end of my tract of land." This was in 1768 and doubly interesting as it bears the signature of both Patience and John Elliott. VI. "To my dau. Mary." No data. VII. "To my dau. Barbara." She appears to be the wife of William Elliott of the Bullock Penns. William Elliott of Path Valley was recommended for a Magistrate, Cumb. Co., in 1771. William Elliott, a Cumb. Co., Delegate to the Provincial Conference, Carpenter's Hall, Phila., June 18, 1775. Account of the Treasurer of Penna., Paid per order of Council to William Elliott, Esq., for 8 days attendance in Conference of Committee, 1776, 11 pounds, 7 shillings, 8 pence. William Elliott, Esq., was married to Rosanna Craig, Feb. 4, 1774, by Rev. John King, Mercersburg, Penna. They had issue: Ephriam Elliott; John; William; Elizabeth; Benjamin; Patience; Samuel; Martha; Rosanna; Alexander. VIII. "My son Benjamin," having received a sufficiency of my substance xx. This undoubtedly is Benjamin Elliott of Huntingdon Co., Penna., who, heretofore, has been confused with Benj. son of Robert Elliott of Peters Twp. (See records of Benj. and George Elliott of Peters Twp., Franklin Co., Penna.) The will of Benj. Elliott of Bedford Co., Penna., of 1791, added confusion, by reason of his houses, lands and the like. He names William Elliott of Path Valley as a nephew and Executor. Benjamin Elliott, son of John of Fannett Twp., mar. 1st Mary Carpenter, of Lancaster, Apr. 9, 1776; issue: Martha; Mary and James. He mar. 2nd at Mercersburg, Penna., Oct. 27, 1785, Sarah Ashman, and had issue: Eleanor; Harriet; Matilda. He mar. 3rd Susan Haines and had issue: Patience; Louisa; Benjamin and John. He is said to have been born in 1752 and died March 13, 1835. The above interpretation fulfills the statement that Benj. Elliott left home because a stepmother came into family. From Vol. 3, of the Penna. Magazine, p. 325, we quote: Benjamin Elliott of Huntingdon, chosen to Penna. Constitutional Convention from Bedford Co., July 15, 1776. Sheriff of Bedford Co., Oct. 31, 1785, Commission signed by Benj. Franklin. Sheriff Huntingdon Co., Oct. 22, 1787. Delegate to Fed. Constitutional Convention, Nov. 20, 1787. Lieut. of Huntingdon Co., Nov. 23, 1787. Treasurer, Huntingdon Co., 1789 and 1799. Member of Supreme Executive Council, Dec. 29, 1789. Justice of Court of Common Pleas under Constitution of 1776. Associate Judge of Huntingdon Co., Aug. 17, 1791. Brigadier-general of Militia, 1796. County Commissioner, 1800.

ROBERT ELLIOTT

Was Commissary in the service of the United States and employed to take supplies to the Army of General Wayne during his Indian Campaign in Ohio, 1792-1794. He was killed by a party of Indians near Fort Washington, Ohio (now Cincinnati) Oct. 6, 1794, while enroute with supplies for the Army at Fort Recovery, Ohio, or as stated in some accounts, Fort Wayne, Indiana. In Feb. of 1804 Congress granted the sum of $2000. to Ann Elliott in recognition of the loss of property incurred by her husband employed on Government service at the time of his death. He was Chief Quarter Master of General Wayne's Army. Robert Elliott was the son of John Elliott and wife Patience of Fannett Twp., Franklin Co., Penna., whose will was dated Oct. 5, 1781. Robert Elliott mar. 1st Jean Wilson, July 6, 1773, at Mercersburg, Penna., by Rev. John King. He mar. 2nd "Anne Duncan, First Baptist Church of Phila., March 16, 1781, Robert Elliott, Merchant, he of Phila. and Ann Duncan, she of Shippensburg, Cumb. Co., Penna." Robert Elliott left issue: Robert; Patience, who mar. Callender Irwine, Esq.; Wilson; William; presumably above four to first wife. He left also Daniel; Harriet, who mar. Stephen Duncan; John; Jesse Duncan; St. Clair; Williams, a minor. In the estate of Daniel Duncan of Cumb. Co., Penna., a dau. Ann Elliott was named, who later mar. Daniel Hughes. BENJAMIN HARRISON

Settled in Virginia in the 17th Century. In the fifth generation Benj. Harrison represented his people in the Continental Congress; was chairman of the Committee of the Whole, presiding over the debates, for a year and a half, which led to the adoption of the Declaration of Independence. He is designated among all the Harrisons in American affairs as "The Signer." Later he presided over the debates on the Articles of Confederation, assisted Washington and Adams in organization of the first State, War and Navy Departments, and then went home to serve three terms as Governor of Virginia. It was his son William Henry, who became the first Harrison in the Presidency, and he came up by way of the army. First as an aide to Anthony Wayne in Ohio wars with the Indians, he later served as Secretary for the Northwest Territory and was its first Delegate to Congress. Appointed Governor of Indian Territory, he served in that capacity for twelve years, treating with the redskins for land grants and defending with whites against Indian attacks. It was his battle with Tecumseh's Shawnees at Tippecanoe Creek in the Wabash Valley that gave his friends later their stirring political battle cry of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." In 1836, he was a candidate for President but lost to Van Buren. Age was wearing him down, but he was a doughty warrior and came back at the age of 68 to enter the presidential lists four years later, and was triumphant with Tyler, after the eclipse of Webster and Clay. His age and the strenuous campaign were too much for him; pneumonia cut him down shortly after he became President. His son Wm. Henry Harrison, 1802-1838, mar. Feb. 18, 1824 at Mercersburg, Penna., the marriage by Dr. David Elliott, Jane Irwin, 1804-1846, dau. of Archibald and Mary (Ramsey) Irwin. Harrison was elected President of the United States in 1888.

EDWARD (EDMOND) MORAN

Was taxed, 1776-79 in Cumb. Valley Twp., Bedford Co., Penna., on land, Horses, Cattle Sheep, and one George Moran was taxed 1779, in Bethal Twp. Edward (Edmond) Moran served under Capt. Evan Cissna, in Bedford County Militia. In the will of Daniel Davis of Peters Twp., dated and prob. 1782, he names his brother-in-law Andrew Blair and his children: the children of niece Catherine (Blair) Moran, wife of Edmond Moran, viz: Susanna Moran; Elizabeth Moran; Blair Moran and Catherine Moran. A witness to will being Edmond Moran. Heitman states that Edmund Moran died in 1812. Where? From "Collections of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin," edited by Lyman C. Draper, Vol. VIII, pages 232-240, Madison, Wis., Pub. by the Society, 1908: Green Bay and the Frontier, 1763 65; the following letters, written by Edmond Moran and Lieut. James Gorrell, the former of whom was a trader at Green Bay, when the latter abandoned the fort at that place, in June, 1763— together with a brief letter from John Clark at Cumberland, Maryland, all relating to the frontier trade and difficulties of that period, and never before published. Moran's first letter, written at Green Bay, is so faded towards its close that it is impossible to decipher or restore some portions of it; but the sense is probably fairly conveyed by the aid of words in brackets. These documents were long preserved by the Shelby family in Kentucky, Capt. Evan Shelby referred to, having been the father of Gov. Isaac Shelby; and though they impart no important or detailed facts, yet as they relate to an interesting period of Wisconsin and frontier history, concerning which documents and reliable information is scarce, it is deemed advisable to publish them entire. It is possible that the trader, Edward Moran, may have descended from Capt. Moran or Morin, the early commandant at Green Bay, who so distinguished himself against the Sauks and Foxes in 1730. But this is only supposition. He was furnished with goods by the large mercantile establishment of Capt. Evan Shelby and Capt. Samuel Postlethwaite of Frederick County, Maryland, who were largely engaged in supplying goods for the Indian trade. It is natural to suppose that Moran, having some knowledge of Green Bay, proposed to take a stock of goods there as a promising trading point; and this design was carried into effect apparently in the early part of 1762. It must have been a very respectable stock, amounting after a year's sales to between six and seven thousand dollars in value and among the sales, as shown by Gorrell's journal, published in the Society's first volume of "Collections," were goods amounting to 935 pounds, 12 shillings, 2 pence, sold to Lieut. Gorrell for presents to the Indians. The very day, June 15, 1763, that Mr. Moran was to have started from the bay to Detroit, bearing despatches from Lieut. Gorrell to Major Gladwyn, intelligence was received from Capt. Ethrington of the capture of Mackinaw, and directing the abandonment of Fort Edward Augustus; when all his unsold goods were seized and appropriated by the Indians, Moran and the other traders then retired with Gorrell's party first to Mackinaw, and then down the Lakes. It would seem probable, as a portion of the goods lost by Shelby and Postlethwaite on the Monongahela, by the Indian outbreak of 1703 (?), was reimbursed by the British Government, this tacitly acknowledging the Justice of the claim, that the loss at Green Bay was also subsequently made good. We hear nothing further of Moran after the date of his Carlisle letter of Aug. 31, 1765 (?). Lieut. Gorrell was a Marylander, and had served in the 605 and 5 and 94 or Royal American regiment during the latter part French and Indian War, on the borders of New York, and in the conquest of Canada, having entered the regiment as an ensign, May 30, 1759. He was sent with a small force to establish a garrison at Green Bay, in October, 1761; was promoted to a lieutenancy March 2, 1762. After abandoning Green Bay, by order of Capt. Ethrington, in June 1763, he retired to Montreal, where he arrived in August following. On the reduction of the army, at the close of the war, Lieut. Gorrell was placed on half pay, till he was assigned as a lieutenant to the 70th regiment of foot, Mar. 18, 1767, stationed at the Caribbee Islands, in the West Indies, where he probably died in 1769, as his name last appears in the British Army List in that year, without transference, or replacement on the halfpay list.

Fort Edward Augustus, or La Baye,
May 14, 1763.

Dear Sirs:—If you have rec'd every letter I wrote you last year which I believe you have, as I always sent them by good opportunities, you will before this know what I then thought would answer in the trading way for these posts—which scheme I hope has so far met with your approbation, that before this can come to hand, and before you will be at Detroit; at which place I hope to meet you about the last of June. The goods you bring, if there is not a good market at Detroit for them, keep them until I come; but by no means let you assortment be broken as you may be assured this place will afford good sale for them. I have sent most of my goods to a gentleman whom I fell in with, one Louis Constant, at Detroit on the out limits of Canada. They are expected here the last of the month, when I shall get off. I have done every thing in my power for the best, and am in hopes it will turn out well; as yet I have a good prospect of it's so doing. Lieut. Jas. Gorrell commands here, who has used mé exceedingly kind ever since I have been with him, for which reason if you arrive at Detroit before me, and can in any way send him a ten gallon bag of spirits, I will pay for it myself. You may remember you desired me to engage goods to sell to the French, wholesale. I wrote you from Michilimackinac last fall, respecting my having engaged between two and three thousand pounds' worth to be delivered at Detroit. The men will have the pay ready, I understand; and they depend on the bargain (that is: rely on it's fulfillment).

I am in hopes I shall not be disappointed in it. The proposal of bringing cattle, I am assured, would be very advantageous, otherwise I would not so earnestly recommend it to you. I am very much surprised that I have never heard a word from one of you since I left home. It gives me no small uneasiness, for many reasons you very well know, I would inform you, however, that I hourly expect to hear from you now, as Lieut. Gorrell expects news from Detroit very soon. (They go) from here to Michilimackinac by Indian (canoes); but it's not safe going over the waves (in such small craft), as many (accidents occur). There has been no opportunity before this year; but (whether) any offers by (sail is a) question. I intend going as soon as Mr. Lott-ridge and Jimmy Daugherty arrive, which is expected soon. Enclosed is a letter to my wife, and one to Mr. Clallen, which I would be obliged to you (to deliver to them). The Indians seem well inclined if (it were not) for those d—d Canadians; they (appear to be as well) attached to the English (as any we) have yet had. Pray give my compliments to your families and all friends. I hope in everything I act to meet your approbation, as it is my wish (to do).

Dear Gentlemen, your much obliged and very humble servant.

Edmond Moran

Ye 15th—This morning this Dennis Croghan arrived here from the Sauk country with no news. He has been there all winter, and has seventy packs of beaver with him; each weighing thirty pounds, French weight. Pray let me hear from you. This country affords abundance of peltry.

For Messrs. Shelby and Postlethwaite.

Tuscarowa, At Camp No. 13,
Oct. 21, 1764.

Dear Sir: Yesterday evening we arrived here. We were kindly received by Col. Bouquet, who was hold— a conference with the Indians, of whom there is a tolerable number, and some of them are the d—st rascals that now live. The speech the Colonel made co-operated with their character. I believe a peace will ensue; if so we must return without scalps; but if a peace, we may be assured it will be much to our advantage, etc. I wrote you from Fort Pitt, that I intended coming here in consequence of Col. Gladwyn's not being yet gone to New York. He is now with Col. Bradstreet, not above eighty miles from here. I could wish Lieut. Gorrell was here, then we might go to him and have our business settled at once. I hired nine horses to Mr. Elliott, who is to return them at Fort Pitt. I have ordered them to be sent home. I left the greatest part of our goods with Mr. Spears' clerk at Fort Pitt. Two small loads of goods, with one of tobacco, I have here and shall sell them. I believe we shall sell all our goods this fall to good advantage. I shall go twenty-five miles further, then will return; if Capt Postlethwaite should come up, he may proceed. Mr. John Gibson is here, given up by the Indians, with many other prisoners. The Indians are d—mnably scared, which you may believe on their seeing such an army in their country. I believe I shall see Col. Gladwyn before I return, and before I go home. At every opportunity I shall write you. Tomorrow we shall march with all the army. All the gentlemen send their compliments to you. My best respects to Mrs. Shelby and all friends, and believe me to be, with the utmost sincerity and kind regards, dear sir, Your most obedient, humble servant,

Edmond Moran

N. B. Please keep my horse until I come in, and take care of him with your own.

Capt. Evan Shelby, Frederick County, Md.

New York, May 27th, 1765

Dear Shelby:—

I have the pleasure to assure you, that I have got all the King's accounts passed, and the cash is now in the General's hands, who will pay it on the certificates, which you know are in the wido's Devisme's hands. As Mr. Moran lodged them with her brother Stillwell, in pledge of the sum which he borrowed of him, as well as the sum due to her by Stidman and Tayler, the whole not amounting to four hundred pounds, York currency, and as she is threatened by Stephen West, I was obliged to enter a protest against the cash being paid on these certificates, which the General approves of. Therefore, as I believe West is set off from this in order to get a later power of attorney than mine, you will set off as fast as possible the nearest way to this place; and you'll not only miss West but also by my giving you other certificates, as they have not lawfully a right to receive the cash by them without a power of attorney, and you know there are other things which will answer. I have been advised to this by the lawyers and other of my friends. You may come in the night from Dugle's (Douglas?) ferry to me at William Tayler's, who lives now at Crinling (?) wharf, known by the name of Peck slip. It is the best and remotest place in town, where I shall be glad to see you as soon as possible. As the post is just going you'll excuse haste. If you had Mr. Postthwaite with you, it would be so much the better, or at least have his approbation, as well as Mr. Moran's, in writing, and all will be well. Compliments to all friends, in particular to Mrs. Shelby. Don't fail in making all haste possible. As we shall not let above two or three friends know anything about the matter until all is finished, which will be done in two hour's time after your arrival here, and then I hope to have the pleasure of riding home with you. Which is all from your sincere friend and well wisher, Carlisle, 31st August, 1765.

Dear Sir:

I am favored with yours of the 27th inst., which as I am at present very much hurried, on account of the bearer, I shall answer briefly. I am much surprised to hear that Mr. Stephen West should not have received that money, as Crohon (Croghan) told me he had; it is most certain that the money has come in to be paid. As for Lottridge's bond, I do assure you that I am very sensible we don't owe him anything; but on the contrary always imagined he was in our debt; and if I had time, would send you his account, and a paper from under his hand to oblige him to settle whatever amount should happen to be proved by me against that bond. The first opportunity I have, whichever day offers, I will send you the accounts and the paper or obligation I have from under his hand. The other account you make mention of, is one of Wm. Bruce's. It was in his custody I left them goods you heard me make mention of, at LaBaye, the amount of which was far above his account against us; and I am lately credibly informed that he arrived safe at Detroit with the proceeds of them, which must as I always allowed it, over pay him, so that I don't regard what West can do in that affair, and can assure you I can not charge myself with anything faulty, in any sense, towards you, since I commenced company with you, but in not giving you a particular detail of everything when I came in. However, in my next, when I send you Lottridge's accounts, which you shall have against Wednesday or Thursday next, I flatter myself you will acquiesce with me in it. I am well satisfied to give you all my lands, warrants, etc, as nothing could render me more satisfacton than to see you satisfied but would not allow that West should have them, neither have I the warrants here to assign you-my wife is not yet come home. I am very sorry that it did not suit you to answer my request; as I know full when Ward and Crohon (Croghan) find that nothing will be done here for me, they will immediately fall upon you in Maryland (for which I should be exceedingly sorry), as would they all, knowing you are equally liable. All they do to me, is to keep me here, which I expect they will, perhaps as long as I live; and if that would satisfy them, I would willingly resign to it, though my fate will be (as it is very nigh now) to live upon bread and water. I shall enclose you an account of my sales to the northward, and which I expect will be satisfactory, and inform you who we are indebted to. I am, as I before mentioned, ready to comply with your request of the land, and shall write you more fully about it in my next. Please let me know what Capt Postlethwaite has done in regard to the re-survey on Janes' Run. I have opportunity almost every day to write to you, and shall embrace the first that offers, in which I enclose the papers you request, and those I mentioned above, which may perhaps be the last you will receive from me (as I am almost tired of writing) while I am here.

I am with the utmost respect,

Your ever devoted, humble servant,

Edmond Moran

If it would suit, do let West know what I say in regard to those debts he has industriously brought against me. I will write to him the first opportunity.
 Capt. Shelby.

Hollidaysburg, Penna.

October 6, 1927

Dear Mrs. Priest:

About Edmund Moran, I am enclosing copies of some letters written by him to the firm of Postlethwaite & Shelby of Washington (Frederick) Co., Maryland. Saml. P. was formerly from Lancaster, Penna. and formed a fur trading firm with Evan Shelby, Jr., to exploit the trade in and around Northern Michigan, Canada, Minnessota, etc. Edmund Moran was their agent in the field. This concern suffered greatly during the French and Indian War, Pontiac's Conspiracy coming right afterwards, they nearly went under—the letters towards the last indicate a fear of the "debtor's prison," so prevalent in those days. Evan Shelby finally left Maryland for the newly opened lands in North Carolina. (N. E. Tenn.); I do not know what became of Moran. Unfortunately I haven't anything on the latter that helps us genealogically, but will be glad to send you anything that I might run across if I do so. On inquiry I find his will is not on file in Carlisle, so he either left none, or did not die there.

The person who typed the Moran data is not an expert, but she got it all down, which is the main thing.

Very sincerely

Cass K. Shelby

Andrew Taylor; and David, all of full age. An earlier David McBrayer had died in Antrim Twp., in 1771, leaving a wife Elizabeth (Campbell) and five married daughters. Deeds show that in 1796, Samuel and Wm. McBrayer, both of the County of Rutherford, N. C., sold their interest in a tract of land in Franklin Co., Penna., for 69 pounds, 10 shillings to David McBrayer. The map shows 137¼ acres, much attested. The tract granted to William McBrayer, by patent, in 1788, was sold by David McBrayer of Hamilton Twp., and wife Agnes to Daniel Leman, March 31, 1806. It is probable that David McBrayer and family removed about this period to Westmoreland Co., Penna., where he died in Mt. Pleasant Twp., Sept.-Oct., 1816. To his wife Agnes he left $1000. cash. It is thought that Agnes, wife of David McBrayer, was Agnes Dickson, which, owing to the similarity of given names, is quite probable. Eldest son, William; Andrew; Samuel; James; John; David; a dau. Ezekiel was son and heir of David Kilgore, Westmoreland Co., Penna. In 1818, Orphans' Court records show that Anges, widow of David McBrayer, had mar. Samuel Coyle and guardians were appointed for the minor children, Matthew, Nancy, Robert and Rebecca McBrayer.

Deeds show that in June, 1812, Nathaniel McBryar and wife Agnes sell to Malachia Brindle of Peters Twp., Franklin Co., Penna., a tract in Hamilton Twp., 218¼ acres. He had previously sold a tract to Samuel McCutcheon. Nathaniel McBrier and wife Jane (Watson) widow of Alexdr., Thompson, are buried in Poke Run Cemetery, Westmoreland Co., Penna. As Court records show the second wife as Margaret the previous statement is open to question. Nathaniel McBrier settled in Washington Twp., Westmoreland Co., Penna. He had a grist and saw mill on Beaver Run and his will dated July, 1820, was prob. Jan., 1835. The son James received from his father the "Poke Run Meeting House Plantation" in 1811, also other tracts; his wife Elizabeth Dickie. The son David received the "Mill Place on Beaver Run" from his father in 1814, and Dr. Egle states his wife was Elizabeth Lochry. D. founder of Elder's Ridge Academy: "The McClatcheys came from Ulster in 1767 and settled in Franklin Co., near Path Valley. The names were James and Robert, the latter our ancestor. JAMES MCCLELLAND

In 1769, James McClelland and wife Martha (dau. of Robert McCoy), were living in District 2 of the Presbyterian Church of Mercersburg. James McClelland was enrolled in Capt. William Huston's Company, Cumb. Co. Militia, in service

1780-81. They appear to have had sons William and Robert, when baptisms begin with Martha in 1773; James in 1776; John in 1778; a child July 4, 1781; a child in 1784 named Thomas. One of above was Joseph who died Nov. 1, 1806. The father, James McClelland Sr., died 1802. Martha, the widow, and her children sold the land in March, 1811, to Jacob Stover. This land was part of a 1740 grant to John Black, 341 acres; Blacks sold to Samuel Carrick, who sold to Jonathan Smith in 1774, 162 acres, Jonathan Smith sold 62 acres to James McClelland. The deed mentions the 2nd son, Robert and states that one of the sons had previously purchased Robert's interest at Sheriff's sale. William McClelland, the oldest son, became a prominent citizen of Butler Co. Ohio. He was the first Sheriff and was elected the second time. When the deed was given the whereabouts of the son Robert were probably unknown to his family in Franklin County. In 1810 he had been trading far up the Missouri. Of the goods which he recovered from the Indians, he distributed among his men, then dropped down the River 200 miles, and in December he came to the place where Astors' expedition was wintering in preparation for the great overland expedition. Robert, now a partner of John Jacob Astor, was busied with more than fifty other men in making the final preparation for that famous journey. By January 1814 he was in business at Cape Girardeau with a stock of goods furnished by a merchant of St. Louis. His last days were spent at the house of Abraham Gallatin and he finally was laid to rest on the farm of his old friend, General Wm. Clark, who became Governor of that Louisiana Territory that he had explored. The Clark farm is near Normandy, Missouri, and on this farm, was a lonely grave at the foot of an oak tree. On the grave lay a slab on which was inscribed:

"To the Memory of Captain Robert McClelland. This stone is erected by a friend who knew him to be brave, honest, and sincere an intrepid warrior, whose services deserve perpetual remembrance, A. D. 1816."

PATRICK MCCLELLAND

Presbyterian Church records, Mercersburg, Penna., Patrick McClelland died 1777, near Phila., by illness of enemy. He left two sons, William and Patrick, the son Patrick being the above who died in 1777, near Phila.

JOHN MCLENE (MCLENE)

He was of Hamilton Twp., and is shown with wife Isabel, 1769, as members of the "Upper West Conococheague" Church of Mercersburg. Rev. John King baptized James for John McClean, Sept. 2, 1770; and John for John McClean on Aug. 2, 1772. A deed shows that John McLene died intestate, Dec. 28, 1789. He was a brother of James McLene and Patrick McLene of Antrim Twp., these three early and prominent men having come from Chester Co., Penna., to what is now Franklin County. In May, 1796, Jeremiah McLene and Isaac McLene were both of Franklin Co., Penna. Their father died owning 236 acres land, the younger children being Hackett; James; John; Patrick. As the name Hackett belonging in that vicinity at that period it is quite possible that John McLene mar. ——— Hackett. From 1778 to 1781 John Hackett had land, horses and cattle in Hamilton Twp., but in 1782, is shown with land, only,—probably had gone south. In Camp on the Schuylkill, Dec. 12, 1777.

Dear Mother: My company came here yesterday and we are preparing for a long stay. We feel that we have a long gloomy winter ahead. The General does not think we will move before spring. My foot is still very sore and walking about in the cold and snow with it bound up in cloth does not help it any. God knows I do not complain when my comrades are also without shoes and without covering, and our country's liberties are in the balance. We laugh at our hardships and joke about the beef-fed Britons.

Be brave, the God of Battles is with us. It is so cold, I can hardly write another word and what I have written with this poor quill and worse fluid may not be made out. Father and brother are out scouting toward Philadelphia.

Your loving son, Hugh

LIEUTENANT JOHN SHELBY

1724-94, appears in 1758-59, under Col. Hugh Mercer, with Officers who serve in the Penna. Regt. Under lotts assigned to each man, Lieut. John Shelby is given two lotts. He was a son of pioneer Evan Shelby and wife Catherine and his issue by first wife is given as: John; Evan; Thomas; Isaac; Louisa who mar. Wm. McCrab, but not proven. The second wife of above John Shelby, was Sarah, dau of David Davis, one of the early Welsh settlers near Welsh Run. The will of David Davis, dated Apr. 1, 1764, prob. June 19, 1766 at Carlisle, Penna., names wife Catherine; only dau. Sarah Shelby; Grandau. Catherine Shelby; Grandson David Shelby; Brothers: James; Daniel and Samuel Davis; Wife's brother David Davis. An old Deed shows that in 1792, "David Shelby of Summer Co. and Territory of the United States of America, by John Shelby, Jr., of Sullivan County and Territory aforesaid, his Attorney &c." xxx Warrant dated the 15th day of March, 1744, there was surveyed to a certain David Davis a tract of land called "Dividend," on the Welsh Run, in Peters Twp., then in the County of Lancaster, part of a larger tract. David Davis in his will did devise this tract unto his "Grandson" the said "David Shelby and his heirs forever." This tract was in the Angle name for many years, the Deed having been written by James Maxwell. John Shelby was a witness in 1767, on a deed of John and Sarah Irwin of Hamilton Twp., to Samuel Smith of Peters Twp. Mr. Cass K. Shelby knows that "Grandson" David Shelby mar. Sarah, dau of Col. Anthony and Mary (Ramsey) Bledsoe; and that "Grandaughter" Catherine Shelby mar. her first cousin, Evan Shelby 3rd. We next hear of John Shelby, Sr., in Washington Co., Va., near his brother Evan, both prominent in Military affairs. Evan lived on the south side of the line now running between Virginia and Tenn., now Bristol, Tenn. John lived near Abingdon, Wash. Co., Va., about fifteen miles N. W. of Bristol. Mr. Cass K. Shelby adds the following: Since my early research, I have definitely discovered that the emigrants came from the town, or near the town, of Tregaron in Cardiganshire, mid-Wales. The entries of their names on the parish register at St. Caron's church (Anglican) there start with the year 1709, when there was an abrupt change in the spelling from Selby to Shelby, the first entry of the former being 1681. This and a tradition in Wales to that effect, would seem to confirm the opinion held here that the line came originally from England and that the pronunciation of the name became corrupted by the Welsh tongue into its present form. There is, as a matter of fact an English "family" by the name of Selby and neither that, nor Shelby is Welsh in form. We are indebted to Mr. C. K. Shelby, of Hollidaysburg for much of the Family data.

ANDREW SNOWBERGER

Served as a private under Capt. Samuel Royer

in 1779-80-81. He is buried in the Nunnery Graveyard,—“Here rests the devoted Strugler and brother Andreas Schneberger. He died the first day of August, and was 81 years and 14 days old.” His will, dated Nov. 5, 1823, probated Aug. 16, 1825, names children: Anna; Barbara; Susanna; Andrew; Mary; John; Jacob; Elizabeth; each to get $81.75, a bond from the Society of seven day Baptists at Snowhill. This settlement north of Waynesboro, Penna., founded in 1795 at Snow Hill, by a religious sect known as Seventh Day Baptists, in 1775 gained enough followers to make practical the observance of Saturday as the Sabbath. About 1795, one Peter Lehman came as pastor. It was he who founded the Snow Hill branch of the order of the Solitary and convent life was soon after-wards begun in the large stone house erected by Andrew Snowberger in 1793. He was a prominent member of the Community, a cabinet maker by trade; a man of intense religious convictions, originally a member of the Amish branch of the Dunkard church, and had become a Seventh Day Baptist through his wife's influence. When the convent began, four or six young women, among them two of the daughters of Andrew Snowberger, became the first nuns. Several men joined the order and for some years its growth was rapid. Additions to the old house were built to furnish the saal, the refectory, the small sleeping rooms, the workshop &c. The men operated a mill where flour was made, hauled to Baltimore and found ready sale. They had a tin shop and farmed many acres of fertile land. In addition to the housework, the women spun flax and wool, wove tablecloths, woolen and linen fabrics. As part of the furnishings of this convent, Andrew Snowberger made a massive and unusual sideboard of curly maple, with feet, Capitals and Slabs of Mahogany. It was over seven feet long, with a mirror set in ebony, the original glass knobs were also set in ebony. It is now (1939) being cared for in a private home in Cove Gap, within a mile of the Birthplace of President James Buchanan. It is probable that the Barbara Snowberger, born July 11, 1743, died Jan. 14, 1810, was the wife of Andrew Snowberger. The Graveyard shows the following, presumably the children of Andrew Snowberger: Andrew, 1771-1830; John, 1776-1839; Jacob, 1779-1844; Barbara, 1768-1851; Elizabeth, 1779-1820. Obed, Veronica, Sarah, David and Benjamin Snowberger, also lie in this old graveyard. Catherine Snowberger, who died 1855 aged 78 years, probably the dau. of Joseph Mentzer, and wife of Andrew Snowberger, Jr., Joseph Mentzer names in his will dau. Catherine intermarried to Andrew Snowberger.

GENERAL GEORGE WASHINGTON

"That great and good man, General Washington, president of the United States, set out from his house on Market Street, with Secretary Hamilton on his left and his private Secretary on his right, to head the troops called out to quell the insurrection to the westward." This was Tuesday, Sept. 30, 1794, and in the town on the way he found infantry and cavalry preparing to march to Carlisle. On leaving Harrisburg he forded the Susquehanna in his carriage which he, himself drove. He spent eight days in Carlisle, and on Sunday morning, at seven o'clock, October 12, he set out from Carlisle, after seeing the troops on their way. As Washington and his party came down Shippensburg's one long street the citizens were at their doors to see him. As they passed where William McConnell lived, Washington bowed to him as he stood at his door, and the regret of Mr. McConnell's life was he forgot, in his excitement, to return the salutation. He dined in Shippensburg, and coming up by the Harris Ferry road he arrived at Chambersburg that evening. He stopped at the stone tavern kept by Col Wm. Morrow, now the site of the Nicklas Store. Quoting from the Chambersburg Gazette Oct. 16, 1794, is this: "On Sunday evening last arrived in this town, His Excellency General Washington, and early on Monday morning he proceeded on his Journey to the Westward, by way of Williamsport and Fort Cumberland." "The next stop was at Greencastle, at the inn, kept by Robert McCulloh where they had breakfast. This tavern stood on the south-east corner of the Square, and has been enlarged at various times through the years and now presents a plastered front, but the back part is the original building in which President Washington was entertained.

As the story runs, Mr. McCulloh's son Thomas, was anxious to see and hear all he could of their distinguished guest and knowing he would not be allowed to remain in the room, he tried to hide under the table being laid for the meal, but his father spied him and spoiled the plan. This boy, Thomas G. McCulloh, was the first president of Cumb. Valley railroad. Leaving Greencastle by the Williamsport pike, General Washington and his company stopped at the handsome and hospitable home of Dr. Robert Johnston where he dined with the family. Dr. Johnston was present, as hospital surgeon, in the southern department, at the surrender of the British army under Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, Va., in October, 1781. That night they lodged at Williamsport.

An account of this Philadelphia-Bedford journey:

"The President accompanied by Genl. Henry Knox, Secty. of War, Genl. Alexander Hamilton, Secty. of the Treasury and Judge Richard Peters of the U. S. District Court, set out for Western Pennsylvania on the first day of October. On Friday his Excellency reached Harrisburg and the day following, Carlisle where the main body of the army had preceded him.

"The President left Carlisle on the 11 of October, reaching Chambersburg the same day, Williamsport on the 13th and Fort Cumberland on the 14th, to review the left division of the army, consisting of the Virginia and Maryland Volunteers. On the 19th he reached Bedford, where he remained two or three days." Here the dates of setting out from Philadelphia and Carlisle differ from the ones given by Washington in his diary; that register showing he left Philadelphia a day earlier, on Tuesday, the 30th of September, and was on his way as far as Trappe on the morning of October 1st, also that he remained in Carlisle a day longer, not leaving until Sunday, the 12th of October. Quoting the diary, we have the itinerary of Washington's westbound journey as follows:—

"Tuesday, Sept. 30th, Having determined . . . to repair to the place appointed for the Rendezvous of the Militia of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia, I left the city of Philadelphia about halfpast ten o'clock this forenoon accompanied by Colo. Hamilton and my private Secretary.

"Wednesday, Oct. 1st, Left Trappe early and breakfasted at Pottsgrove, 11 miles. We reached Reading for dinner, 19 miles further, where we found several detachments of Infantry and Cavalry preparing for their march to Carlisle.

"Thursday, Oct. 2nd, Reached Lebanon at night, 28 miles, etc.

"Friday, Oct. 3rd, Breakfasted at Hummelstown, 14 miles, and dined and lodged at Harrisburg on the banks of the Susquehanna, 23 miles from Lebanon. At Harrisburg we found the First Regiment of New Jersey, about 500 strong, commanded by Col. Turner, drawn up to receive us. Passed along the line to my quarters. Walked through and around the town.

"Oct. 4th, Forged the Susquehanna . . . On the Cumberland County side, I found a detachment of the Philadelphia Light Horse ready to receive and escort me to Carlisle, 17 miles, where I arrived about 11 o'clock. Two miles short of it I met the Governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey with all the Calvary that had rendezvoused at that place, drawn up. Passed them and the Infantry of Pennsylvania I alighted at my quarters. "Sunday, Oct. 5th, Went to the Presbyterian meeting and heard Dr. Davison preach a political sermon . . .

"Oct. 6th to 12th, Employed in organizing the several detachments, which had come in from different Counties of the State, in a very disjointed and loose manner, or rather I ought to have said, in urging and assisting Genl. Mifflin to do it; as I no otherwise took the command of the Troops than to press them forward, and to provide them with necessaries for their march.

"Sunday, Oct. 12th, Having settled these matters, having seen the troops off . . . given them their route and day's march . . . I set out from Carlisle about 7 o'clock this morning, dined at Shippensburg, 21 miles further, lodged at Chambersburg, 11 miles, where I was joined by Gen. Hand.

"From Carlisle along the left road which I pursued, to be out of the march of the army and avoid the inconvenience of passing the wagons belonging to it

"Along the road which the troops marched, both the road and the improvements were much better. The roads came together at the east end of town" (Shippensburg)

This army of Penna. and New Jersey troops, mobilized at Carlisle, numbered about five thousand, the greater part of which the infantry, artillery and wagon brigades, moved from Shippensburg westward over the Three Mountain Road to Strasburg, crossing North Mountain at that point, thence on to Bedford while the cavalry travelled the Old Loudon Road a longer route, by way of Thompson's Cove, now Cowan's Gap.

Genl. Washington and suite passed southward from Shippensburg over the Harris Ferry Road to Chambersburg, thence by way of Greencastle to Williamsport and Fort Cumberland, where the Maryland and Virginia troops rendezvoused and from there to Bedford which they reached a little after 4 o'clock in the afternoon of October 19th. Resuming the diary:

"October 20th, Called the Quartermaster General, etc . . . and others of the Staff department before me and the Commander in chief, at 9 o'clock this morning, in order to fix on the Routs of the two Columns and their stages.

"Upon comparing accounts, it was found that the army could be put in motion the 23rd, and it was so ordered . . . matters being thus arranged . . . I prepared for my return to Philadelphia in order to meet Congress, and to attend to the Civil duties of my office."

Returning from Bedford, General Washington traveled eastward over the same route the army followed in its westward march from Shippensburg to Bedford. This route was the Three Mountain Road, a State road, the latest and best. Its course was from Shippensburg to Strasburg, across the North Mountain to Skinners in Horse Valley, thence into Path Valley and on to Fort Littleton and Bedford. That this is the road Washington traveled is well established by the General himself in a letter to Alexander Hamilton. Quoting from it we have:

"Susquehanna, Wrights Ferry, 26 October, 1794. Dear Sir: "Thus far I have proceeded without accident to man, horse or carriage, altho the latter has had wherewith to try its goodness; especially in ascending North Mountain from Skinners by a wrong road, that is,—by the old road which never was good and is rendered next to impassable by neglect. "I heard a great complaint of Gurney's Corps, (and some of the Artillery) along the road to Strasburgh,—There I parted from their Rout. In some places, I was told they did not leave a plate, a spoon, a glass or a knife. I pray you to mention this to Gov. Mifflin with a request that the most pointed orders may be given and every precaution used to prevent the like on the return of the Army.

"I roade yesterday afternoon thro' the rain from York Town to this place." etc . . . (The Writings of George Washington. Edited by W. C. Ford, Vol. 12, p. 480. Original in New York City Library.)

That Washington left Bedford on Tuesday, the 21st of October is well attested; the Phila Gazette of Oct. 27, and the General Advertiser of Oct. 28, both having announced very cautiously that "We understand the President of the United States left Bedford on his return to Philadelphia. on Tuesday last." Neither paper ventured into the wilderness to follow his course but as tradition hands it down, the President accompanied by his staff left Bedford in the morning of the 21st, by the Three Mountain Road; passing Sproats and Fort Littleton he arrived at Burnt Cabins that same day—having traveled a distance of 37 miles. Here Washington spent the night at the Red Tavern, a log inn since destroyed by fire and with it the old book in which he had written his name. Leaving Burnt Cabins the next morning, Oct. 22nd., he crossed the Tuscarora Mountains into Path Valley; passing through Fannettsburg and over a range of the Kittochtinny he entered Horse Valley and crossing it reached "Skinners," a tavern located near the foot of North Mountain. This Tavern-station marked "Skinner's" can be found on Howell's map of 1792. Not far from this tavern and close by the Ford in the Conodoguinet, the Three Mountain Road intersected the old Packer's Path. It was at this intersection that Washington, for once in his life, took the wrong way—"ascending the North Mountain from Skinner's by a wrong road;—"by the old road which never was good and is rendered impassable by neglect." Since the course of the old road and that of the new merged near the summit (original surveys) the General there regained the right way and continued his journey over the Three Mountain Road to Strasburg, thirteen miles distant from Burnt Cabins. From this point Washington's further course of travel through Franklin County remains an unsettled question. So far, with the exception of several miles on the "wrong road." The General has been travelling, in reverse, the same route the soldiers followed ten days earlier, but at Strasburg, as his letter states, he "parted from their Rout;" which can mean nothing else than at Strasburg he left the army-trodden Three Mountain Road, by this time badly wrecked in the passage of the artillery and "Waggon" brigades.

Yet, despite Washington's own statement, tradition continues his travels over that army route through Pleasant Hall, Orrstown, to the Black Horse, a log tavern kept by Daniel Nevin and thence to Shippensburg where he passed the night. Washington, himself, gives nothing concerning his journey between Strasburg and York but his expense account showing expenditures along the way includes Chambersburg in his route.

This account, along with the Washington letter to Hamilton, constitutes the only contemporary record of that Bedford-York journey.

Quoting from it, we have:—

19th,—Serv. between Bedford and Cumberland	3-9
21st,—Serv. at Bedford	7-8
Serv. between Bedford and Chambersburg	11-9
24th,—Cash to Mr. Dandridge for expenses 100D	37-10
25th,—Cash expended on Road from Chambersburg to York	7-6
27th,—Do at York and between that and Lancaster	11-3

(Division of Manuscripts—Library of Congress)

This record of Washington's route by way of Chambersburg leads to the assumption that at Strasburg, where he parted from the soldier's route, he turned his course toward Chambersburg—10 miles distant—traveling the road shown on How-ell's map of 1792. Arrived at Chambersburg, Washington had the choice of two routes to York; the mountain way, a direct course through Black's Gap and over the South Mountains; the valley way, around about course skirting the range. Of proof of his choice, there is none for either way. But traditions, well founded and convincing, carry him over the valley route and offer nothing along the mountain road. General Washington's probable course from Chambersburg was over the Harris Ferry road to Shippensburg where tradition meets with him at the Black Horse, a stone tavern kept by William Rippey. Here, as tradition gives it, Washington spent the night, hospitably entertained by tavern and town, and continued his journey the following day over an undetermined course to Simpson's Ferry in York county where Gen. Michael Simpson "in 1794 had the distinguished honor of entertaining President Washington over night on his return from the Whiskey Insurrection. The next day President Washington journeyed to York. On Saturday, Oct. 25, he rode through the rain to Wright's Ferry, from which place he wrote to Hamilton on Sunday the 26th. Thence to Lancaster etc.—The next we hear of him through the Philadelphia papers is that the President of the United States arrived in town on the 28th and was in good health." Both papers assure us of this; the Gazette as before, beating the General Advertiser to it by one day.

LEWIS WILLIAMS

The record of Lewis Williams which follows was obtained from papers on file in claim for pension, S.40696, based upon his service in the War of the Revolution. The date and place of birth of Lewis Williams, and names of parents were not stated. Lewis Williams enlisted, place not given, March 15, 1778, served as private in Captain Samuel Brady's company, Col. Brodhead's Eighth Penna. The soldier, Lewis Williams, was allowed pension on his application executed May 4, 1818, at which time he was a resident of Muskingum County, Ohio, then in the seventy-seventh year of his age. He was still a resident of Muskingum County, in 1820, and then referred to his son-in-law, but did not give his name. The last payment of pension due Lewis Williams, a pensioner of the Rev. War, certificate No. 14,489, Ohio Agency, covering the period from Sept. 4, 1833 to March 1834, was made March 28, 1834, at the Pension Agency in Cincinnati, Ohio, to George Stratton, as attorney for the pensioner. Lewis William and Thomas David applied for 800 acres land on Muddy Creek and Licking Run, Sept. 7, 1737. It was later surveyed for 1000 acres and adjoined (South of) Andrew Blair at a place called Clay Lick. Lewis Williams was allowed under a Blunston License. Under the Abington Presby. Church records is the following: Lewis Williams to Ann Watts, June 9, 1737. The estate of Lewis Williams, deceased, of Peters Twp., is shown at Carlisle, Aug., 1775. Enoch Williams, son of Lewis Williams left a will dated 1796, prob. 1805. He was of Air Twp., and names first a dau. Mary Shelby (having mar. David Shelby, Jr. in 1782). and names other daus. and sons Benjamin and Lewis as Executors. One Lewis Williams was among the settlers evicted from the Little Cove and Connalowsays in 1750, when Secretary Peters burned their cabins because the lands were not yet purchased from the Indians. The above notes are suggestions only to the Williams relationship.

JAMES WILSON

In 1769, James Wilson and wife Isabella were living in the vicinity of Fort Loudon, and were members of the "Upper West Conococheague" Presby. Church. "Colonel (or Major) James Wilson was born 1741, in Cumb. Co. Penna., about three miles from where Mercersburg now stands. His wife was Isabella Barr, dau. of a neighbor," and probably the sister of James, Robert and Alexander Barr. Deeds at Chambersburg show that on Aug., 1779, James Wilson of Cumb. Co., Peters Twp., sells to Robert Wilson of same place, on Conococheague Creek, on south side of a branch which James Wilson holdeth by virtue of an article dated Apr. 27, 1770; also by his father's will, dated Aug. 7, 1776. Signed by James Wilson and Isabel Wilson. The parents of the above James Wilson, were James whose will was dated 1770, prob. 1786; the mother was Martha, who died Dec. 18, 1775. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Pomeroy are thought to have been the first white women to locate in Western Penna. On one occasion, the Indians being especially troublesome, Col. Wilson and James Barr hurried to the home of John Pomeroy, where they found Col. Pomeroy and wife Hannah upstairs, the children being stowed away unnder the puncheon floor, with orders to keep quiet. The Colonel had fought the savages over three hours. He had two good rifles, Hannah loading one while he was using the other, shooting through port holes, and halloooing to the Indians to come on, giving the impression there were many men in the house. Hannah was a great snuffer, and the Colonel said she deliberately took a pinch between the loadings. To Major Wilson is ascribed by tradition, the head to plan, and the hand to execute, for he was familiar with all manner of Indian strategy. After the wars, he devoted himself to the business of his farm, of about 800 acres of rich land, on which he resided till 1820, his family consisting of three sons and four daughters. His remains, with those of his wife, unmarried sons, and daughters, all repose on the farm, formerly Barr's Fort, where the bodies of the two brothers of Mrs. Wilson (Barrs) killed by the Indians, were buried in early days. Frontier Forts of Western Penna., p. 344, 347, 348, 353, 355, 357, 371. Caldwell's Hist. of Indiana Co., Penna., p. 103, 104, 121, 122, 123.

In his will he names Brother Isaac, son of William Wilson; sisters Sarah and Elizabeth; Brother John's son William; Brother William's land; Margaret McAfee to have the use of land. Elizabeth Smith 30 pounds; Sister Ann's children. The above will seems to prove this Ann Wilson to have been the wife of Col. James Smith, famous Indian Captive. Deed Book 5, p. 206, 207, shows James Irwin as the Executor of Matthew Wilson, who, with the approbation and consent of Robert Newil, Esq., John Newil and others, heirs of said Matthew Wilson, decd. James Irwin sells to John Rowan, for 3 pounds, Lot No. 43 in town of Mercersburg, before Robert Newell, Justice of the Peace, Aug. 14, 1801.

Jas. Trimble, Dy. Sec.

On the James Young farm, Guilford Township. Sale of the Last Slave North of Mason & Dixon Line was held under this old Tree. About two miles southwest of Chambersburg, in Franklin Co., stands an Oak Tree which deserves to be ranked as one of the historic trees of Pennsylvania, for under it slavery was publicly recognized as an institution for the last time by the people of the Keystone State. This venerable Oak stands on the edge of a public road leading through a farm which originally belonged to Colonel James Young, a scotch Irish soldier of the Revolutionary War. Slavery was abolished in Pennsylvania about the beginning of the last century, but the act of assembly provided that all children born into slavery before the act went into effect, were obliged to serve their respective masters for a period of twenty-eight years before they could be declared absolutely free. Hence it was that Colonel James Young continued to be the owner of two male slaves, and during the Spring of 1828 when a sale of his effects took place, these two slaves were sold along with his other property. A platform was erected under this Oak Tree and the auctioneer put the two slaves under the hammer and they were sold to the highest bidders. While the exact date and month of this memorable sale cannot now be definitely fixed, there is no doubt that it was the last time human flesh was legally and publicly exposed for sale in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. There is no record of the price for which these slaves were sold, but it is evident that they brought only a small sum, because they had only a few months more to serve. One of these slaves was knocked down to James Dunlap, a distinguished lawyer of Pennsylvania and author of "Dunlap's Digest." He put his purchase to work in an edge tool factory in Chambersburg and drew all the wages earned by the slave until the date of his freedom. The other slave was sold to Silas Henry, a contractor who was engaged in building King Street Bridge in Chambersburg. He was put to work on this bridge but became unmanagable and threatened his owner's life, when he too, was placed in the edge tool factory to serve out his time. The last witness to this remarkable sale died but two years ago at the age of ninety-one. Steps have been taken by the local Historical Society to place a marker under this old tree. THOMAS BROWN

One of the earliest settlers in the Brown's Mill district was Thomas Brown, founder of the family from which the graveyard derived its name. Records of land grants issued in Lancaster county show that in 1734 he received 300 acres and that he obtained an additional hundred acres in 1742. In 1738 he joined with Benjamin Chambers in an unsuccessful petition to the Donegal Presbytery for a pastor for East Conococheague. When Cumberland county was created in 1750 he was a member of the first grand jury, which convened on July 24th, probably at Carlisle. His will, dated December 20, 1768 contains interesting provisions. To his son-in-law, James McLene, he leaves his "still and vessels thereto belonging." Of my son Lazarus he declares that "his only part and portion shall be an English Crown." To his grand-daughter Finwell, or Fanuel, he bequeaths five pounds—"to be laid aside for her wedding suit if she lives to that time." For his "dear loving wife Marthew" he provided "three years living in my present dwelling house and a third of all crops raised by William Dean. At the expiration of three years she shall remove from the Mansion House to the house where John White now lives, taking household furniture which was hers before married; but if she change her estate by marriage she shall remove from the premises. He died in 1769. Six children survived this head of the house Brown:—George, who had come with his father to Brown's Mill prior to 1739 and had been in 1748 a captain in the Regiment of Col Benj.

Chambers; the unlucky Lazarus, whose portion was a crown, and four daughters—Rebecca, Ruth, Elizabeth, and Christina. The three latter daughters made notable matches. Ruth became the wife of John Rannels, Elizabeth the wife of Joseph Cooke, and Christina the wife of James McLene. George Brown married Agnes Maxwell. His children, also, were six in number. One son, William Maxwell Brown, married Hadassah Chambers, dau. of the pioneer Benjamin Chambers.

"Capt. Thomas Brown was a son of George and Ruth (Maxwell) Brown; Most notable of the sons of George Brown, and grandson of old Thomas Brown, was Capt. Thomas Brown. Born in 1762 he served in the Revolutionary War and apparently preserved his interest in military affairs. An advertisement in Franklin Repository, issue of Sept. 28, 1802, is headed "Attention Cavalry" and states that "Capt. Thomas Brown calls the members of the Franklin Guard to meet at the house of Mr. Henry Gordon, innkeeper, etc. Five members of the Brown family have markers in the Brown's Mill graveyard. Elizabeth wife of Joseph Cooke and dau. of the original Thomas Brown, lies buried beside her husband, a Rev. soldier. HENRY POLAN (PAWLING)

Is shown as a First Lieut., 1777-78, also in 1780-81, serving under Capts. Elias Davison and Wm. Berryhill. The late Dr. Franklin A. Bushey, of Greencastle stated that Henry Pawling was a brother of one Thomas Paulding who assisted in the capture of Major Andre as the latter was returning from his meeting with Benedict Arnold. He died Feb. 15, 1794, aged 47 yrs. His estate was admr. by Benj. Price and wife Sarah in 1809. The ancestor of the Pawling family, according to information submitted through the courtesy of Dr. Mary A. Laughlin, was Capt. Henry Pawling, who came to the island of Manhattan in 1664 as a soldier in the expedition of the Duke of York against the Dutch. It is known that his sons, John and Henry Pawling, soon moved with their families from Kingston, N. Y., to what was then Philadelphia County, Penna. The Henry Pawling who is buried at Brown's Mill was a native of Montgomery County and was probably a grandson of the first Henry. Coming to the Conococheague settlement as an early settler, he married a daughter of Nicholas and Elizabeth Hicks, whose daughter, Elizabeth, married Henry Prather. He had two children, Henry, unmar., and Eleanor mar. Dr. Robert Johnston. Famous in the early history of Antrim Twp., was Pawling's or Pollen's tavern, which stood about two miles south of Greencastle near the present Williamsport pike and was conducted by Henry Pawling. This tavern was on the route from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh and was regarded as the western limit of safety for travelers. It is mentioned in Colonial documents as early as 1765 when, in spite of an order of the King forbidding the colonists to trade with the Indians, a number of Philadelphia merchants sent a caravan of goods to "Pollen's Tavern" and presumably disposed of them. His son Henry served in the militia during the Rev. War and his daughter Elinor mar. the distinguished Antrim surgeon, Dr. Robert Johnston. Henry Pawling was a delegate from 2nd. Batt. Cumb. Co. Militia to a meeting at Lancaster, July 4, 1776.

General Potter was twice married. His first wife was Elizabeth Cathcart, of Philadelphia, and his second was Mrs. Mary Patterson Chambers. His home during the latter part of his life was a fortified log house in Penn's Valley. He died in Antrim Township while visiting his daughter.

Letter to James H. Potter from General George Washington:

Headquarters Peter Wentz's, October 18, 1777. Sir:—I congratulate you upon the glorious success of our Armies in the North, an account of which is enclosed. This singular "favour" of Providence is to be received with thankfulness and the happy moment which Heaven has pointed out for the firm establishment of American Liberty ought to be embraced with the coming spirit. It is encumbered upon every man of influence in his country to prevail upon the militia to take the field with that energy which the present crisis evidently demands. I have no doubt of your exalting yourself in this way. In the post which you now occupy, you may render the most important service by cutting off the enemy's convoys and communications with their fleet. For this purpose you should strain every nerve and there is another thing which I would suggest and leave you the judge of the practicibility of it. I think that you might harass the parties who are located at Fort Mifflin . . . Let me again entreat you, and through you may every one of any influence among the militia, to exert it to the utmost in exciting them to the field where by renewed re-inforcements the glorious work we have in hand will be completed.

I am your most humble servant,

George Washington.

FALLING SPRING PRESBYTERIAN GRAVEYARD

Chambersburg, Penna.

The "Falling Spring" was the name given by pioneer Benjamin Chambers, to the place of his settlement, at the confluence of the large spring, with the Conococheague Creek. Col. Chambers, himself a Presbyterian, made an early appropriation of some suitable ground for a GRAVEYARD, SCHOOL HOUSE and PLACE of PUBLIC WORSHIP. This was the romantic Cedar Grove on the bank of the creek, on which the present church stands. In this grove, and near the spot which the present church occupies, there was erected a small log building, which was used for the double purpose of a school house and place of worship, and which Records of Presbytery show to have been in the year 1739. It was of logs, with doors on eastern and southern sides, and lighted by long narrow windows the width of two small panes of glass. When this building was not of sufficient capacity for all who wished to worship in it, the congregation abandoned it for the time in favour of the saw-mill of Col. Chambers, which stood on the bank of the creek, on what was known as "The Island" surrounded by a lovely green plot. On that grassy space the gathered crowd seated themselves and received with interest and eagerness the messages of God from his commissioned ambassador.

So long a life necessarily carries with it more or less of the crosses and distresses of this world from which he was not entirely exempt—but in his cup was mingled an unusual portion of all that makes life valuable. The respect of the whole community, the sincere esteem of his fellow citizens to whom he was more intimately known and the ardent and devoted affections of those intimately connected with him conspired in and of a clear and excellent understanding and a warm and generous heart to encourage and invigorate the efforts of his life and to give enjoyment and happiness to his declining years. In the year 1776 and at the early age of 18 he entered the military service of his country as an officer of the Revolutionary army in which he continued until the war terminated and peace acknowledged us to be what we had declared we were an independent nation. THE WHITE CHURCH GRAVEYARD

Churches of the Valley By the Rev. Alfred Nevin

Among the first objects which claimed the attention of the early settlers in their new home, was the organization of a Church according to the faith of their fathers. This took place, A. D. 1738, and was styled, "Upper West Conococheague," which covered about fourteen miles square. The two most prominent places selected were, the one, near what is now known by the name of Waddell's Graveyard, and which was then opened for interments in anticipation of the building being erected there, and the other the place where it now stands. In a spirit of compromise, and as being the most central and eligible, the latter place was chosen.

A Present to Mrs. Elizabeth King
Her heart may heavenly grace inspire
From Jesus her immortal King,
The Father's Love, the Spirits fire
Descend and teach her Soul to sing.

To sing, with sweetest Melody,
The Songs of Happy Saints above
To celebrate the eternal Three
And taste their everlasting Love.

In pleasing Concert let us join
Our Kindred Hearts his Name to praise

His glorious Name, who Deigns to hear
Nor will disdain our feeble lays.

Kindle our Fires, ye Glorious Hosts
In Heaven's high Courts, whose Flaming Tongues
Ne'er cease his glories to proclaim
Glories most worthy of your songs.

Be this our daily love and joy
Till this imperfect Life is gone,
And Jesus comes with mighty Grace
To raise us to his heavenly Throne.
