STATE CAPITAL, TRENTON.

NEW JERSEY is bounded north and northeast by New York, east by New York and the Atlantic Ocean, south by the Atlantic Ocean and Delaware Bay, and west by Delaware and Pennsylvania. Its extreme length is 187 miles; its greatest breadth 59 miles, and its least 32 miles; land area, 7,455 square miles. The surface is mountainous in the northwest, hilly in the northeast and central parts, low and gently undulating in the south. The mountains, a part of the Appalachian system, are the Kittatinny or Blue, and the Highland Range. Between them lies the Kittatinny Valley, about 10 miles wide; soil productive but varied—the northern part adapted to grain and grass; the central part has been well fertilized, and yields abundant farm and market garden products and fruit; the southern part is sandy and light. Its agricultural products generally, including market garden produce, are very extensive. The central part is the most thickly settled and is, in fact, a vast market garden for the supply of New York and Philadelphia. Large quantities of grapes and small fruits are grown in the south. Cranberries are one of the leading productions. It is estimated that more than half of the cranberries produced in the United States are grown in this State. The chief cranberry counties are Ocean, Atlantic, and Burlington. It is celebrated for its marl and clay deposits, peat, bog iron ore, and glass sand. It has become one of the leading States in the value of its manufactures, which embrace a wide range of goods. Prominent among the instances of greatest growth may be mentioned the pottery and rubber interests, while glass making is an important industry in the sandy region of the south. Its iron mines, zinc mines, slate quarries, and clay banks are very valuable, and the fisheries (deep sea, oyster, and fresh water), a source of great profit. Iron ore is found generally through the State. There are a large number of productive mines of magnetic iron ore in Sussex, Passaic, Morris, and Warren Counties. Clay for gas retorts and fire brick is found at Amboy, and valuable deposits of franklinite at Mine Hill and Stirling. In the northwestern portion of the State, excellent roofing-slates, building and flag stones and rich hematites are abundant. It has a large coasting trade, and considerable ship building is carried on. Newark, the metropolis, has a population of 182,000, and its manufacturing industries are claimed to be more important in proportion to population than those of any other city in the United States. Within the past ten years the sea coast has been built up in almost a continuous line of villages from Sandy Hook to Cape May Point, and the temporary residents in the summer season will reach as high as 100,000 persons. There are 21 Counties in New Jersey; newspapers are published in all.
