

with her favorite uncle and aunt, Rev. Horace Eaton, D. D., and wife, of Palmyra, N. Y., and attended the Union school in that place until the fall of '58, when she entered the North Granville Young Ladies' Seminary, whose principal was Hiram Orcutt, LL. D., where she graduated in 1860. She was cashier in one of the stores of her brother Frederick in Toledo, in 1867 and 1868, and from the fall of '69 until January, '71. The later years her home has been with her brothers, for the most part with her brother Lucien. She is occupied at Eaton Grange usually in the summer. She is now with her sister, Mrs. Caroline (Eaton) Pennock.

James Andrew was named for a brother of his mother. He remained with his father until he worked a season with his uncle, Nathan Andrew. There he saved his earnings for a term at the academy in New London. He finished his studies at Phillips academy, Andover, Mass., when he entered the store of his brother Frederick, in Toledo, Ohio. Later he was in business for himself in Fort Wayne, Ind., and Memphis, Tenn. He was 17 years in business in Adrian, Mich.

In 1887 he went to Grand Rapids, Mich, where he has a large and successful business. Everywhere he is a patriotic citizen. He m. Jan. 10, 1872, Fannie Josephine, b. Dec. 24, 1847, daughter of James John and Joanna Wight (Needham) Newell, of Adrian, Mich. Mr. Newell was one of the leaders of the pioneer enterprises of Adrian, and in the organization of the Republican party in Mich. Mrs. Eaton was educated at Adrian, and at the academy at Monroe, Mich. She is of an active, critical mind, studious, observant of current events, has special fondness for literature, and special taste in household ornamentation. Child,—

Mary, b. March 24, 1877, in Adrian, Mich.

Charles Eaton, soon after his mother's death, was given to his uncle, Samuel Andrews, and his aunt, Sally G. Andrews, brother and sister of his mother. At fifteen he entered Phillips academy, Andover, Mass., and studied there two years. He finished his schooling at Kimball Union Academy, Meriden. The expense of his education was paid by his brother Frederick and by a small bequest left by his mother to aid in the education of all her children.

He studied law in Michigan university 1865 and 1866; in 1866-'68 he resided in Memphis, and was connected with the Memphis Daily