Stephen Panonio Szegedinus in favor of the Trinity against Servetus was published in 1573 and another edition in 1593.

Servetus was a learned Spaniard, born 1509, educated at Toulouse. He studied medicine at Paris. He was a friend and correspondent of Calvin, and they consulted together about Arian doctrines. He published some anti-trinitarian essays. Calvin, who ruled the churches at Geneva, fiercely attacked his old friend, got him arrested, (as he passed through Geneva) for blasphemy and heresy; and Oct, 27, 1553, with Calvin's assent and approbation, this great man was burnt on a pile of green wood.

This was one of the examples, the pilgrims had to teach them Christian charity. It was not the work of the Roman Catholics. They had tolerated the Arian opponent, the philosopher and discoverer; but Orthodox Calvin was God's avenger, as his poor followers believed.
