Thaddeus Alvord went with his parents about 1790 to Madison Co., N. Y. State, and settled near Lockport in 1811 on a farm near the county house. He enlisted in the army in the War of 1812 and was taken from the ranks to get out timber for boats which were used by Gen. Scott in crossing the river into Canada. He removed to Waterford, Mich., in 1823, but on a visit to his brother Theodotius at his old home in N. Y. State in the year 1828 he married his third wife. She joined the Latter Day Saint's Church in 1833, and he was baptized by Elder Samuel Bent in Silver Lake (Pontiac), Mich., 1834. On Sept. 7, 1835 they started for Mo. and settled in Clay Co.; thence in 1837 to Farwest, Mo.; thence in 1839 to Nauvoo, Ill., and crossed the river and located on a farm in Lee Co., Ia.; thence Apr. 1, 1844, to Nauvoo, Ill.; thence in Apr., 1846, to Council Bluffs, Ia., and stopped the following winter at "Winter Quarters". (now Florence, Neb.) In the spring of 1847 they went to Anders Co., Mo.; thence in 1849 to Utah, arriving at Salt Lake City, Oct. 28, where they located in the 19th Ward; thence in 1866 to North Ogden, Utah, where he died.

The following is the record of service of Thaddeus Alvord, as furnished by the Adj. General, Washington, D. C.:
