No effort was spared to discover the parentage of the above Elisha Alvord. From the facts gathered,—chiefly from his grandson, Elmus F. Alvord—it seems reasonable to believe that he was the son of Elisha Alvord (No. 148, born probably at Colchester, Conn., May 16, 1748), whom see. Elisha Alvord, the head of the above family, had brothers, William and John, of whom the latter was probably brought up by some one outside the family, since his parents died when he was very young. It is possible that he is the John Alvord who died at Brookfield, N. Y., about 1815. (Surrogate Rec.). Russell Alvord when about fifteen years old went with his uncle William Alvord, from Livingston County, N. Y., to Geauga County, O., to drive his stock, William settled in Geauga Co., O., and had family, but nothing further regarding him could be learned, Russell Alvord always claimed that the Alvords of the Syracuse Salt Works
