This and Accompanying Photographs of the Movements of American Troops on French Soil Are Official, Having Been Received from the War Department Archives of France. (Pictorial Press.)

First Photographs of the American Army in France

AMERICAN TROOPS OF THE FIRST CONTINGENT TO REACH FRANCE SWINGING DOWN THE RUE DE RIVOLI IN THE GREAT CELEBRATION IN PARIS OF THE FOURTH OF JULY. (Pictorial Press.)

GENERAL PERSHING AND STAFF AT THE ENTRANCE TO THE GENERAL'S NEW HOME IN PARIS, THE RESIDENCE OF OGDEN MILLS OF NEW YORK, PLACED BY MR. MILLS AT GENERAL PERSHING'S DISPOSAL. (Pictorial Press.)

FRENCH ARMY CONTINGENT OF THE FOURTH OF JULY PARADE IN PARIS PASSING THE PLACE DE LA BASTILLE. (Pictorial Press.)

MAJOR GENERAL WILLIAM L. SIBERT AND STAFF ARRIVE IN FRANCE TO TAKE COMMAND OF THE AMERICAN CAMP BEHIND THE FRENCH FRONT. (© Kadel & Herbert.)

GENERAL NIOX, IN THE PRESENCE OF PRESIDENT POINCARE, MARSHAL JOFFRE, GENERAL PERSHING, AND OF THE LEADING CIVIL AND MILITARY OFFICIALS OF PARIS, GATHERED BEFORE THE INVALIDES, NAPOLEON'S TOMB, RECEIVING THE "STARS AND STRIPES," BORNE BY THE AMERICAN CONTINGENT OF THE FOREIGN LEGION AFTER THE UNITED STATES ENTERED THE WAR, FOR PERMANENT PRESERVATION IN THE INVALIDES CHAPEL. (Pictorial Press.)

FRENCH RED CROSS NURSES DISTRIBUTING SANDWICHES AMONG AMERICAN SOLDIERS ON THEIR ARRIVAL IN PARIS FOR THE INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATION. (© International Film Service.)