

THE FIGHT between Dan and Ewan, the Deemster's son (Kenneth B. Clarendon), provoked by Ewan, and which ends in his death at the foot of the cliff.

A TUMBLE DOWN building was reconstructed, thatched and plastered to represent "The Three Legs of Man," a famous inn in the town of Peel.

and Staten le of Man for the otation of vel, "The
Which the Derwent Plays the Part.
orporation.

A "BELT line" car drawn by oxen is Block Island's transportation system.

AN IRISH priest, shipwrecked on Dan's island, intrusts to Dan before he dies his cure for the plague on the Isle of Man.

DAN, WHO has been exiled for the murder of Ewan, returns to his father in the garb of a priest.

announced the death penalty. The scene is a reproduction of Tynwald seat of justice.

MONA AND DAN, before Dan's sentence to exile, spent many happy moments in the fields of the Deemster's vast estate.

MR. CAINE and Miss Swayne in a Corot-like setting on Block Island. Mr. Caine says this is the nearest approach to the Isle of Man landscape he has seen in America.