

AMONG US MORTALS

DRAWN BY W. E. HILL

WAR RELIEF

Very disgruntled chorus lady from "The Passing Delights of 1917," who was told by the press agent to be on the job in case there were any newspaper photographers around. So far, not even a Brownie camera has shown up.

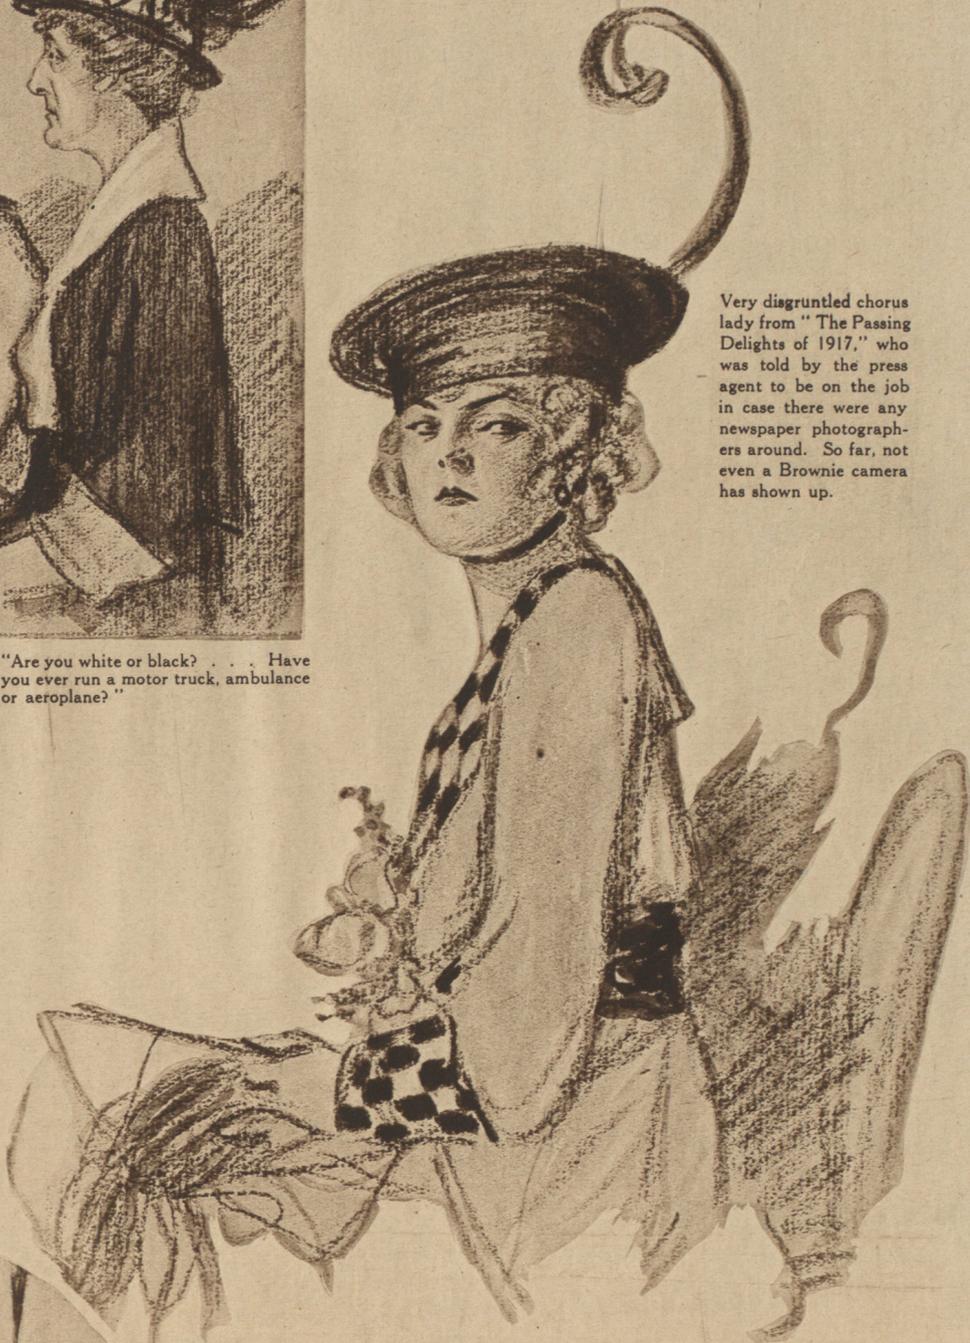

The lady who insists on seeing the head of the Red Cross to find out what is wrong with her scarf.

"Are you white or black? . . . Have you ever run a motor truck, ambulance or aeroplane?"

Pete, the janitor: "Aw, them dames is all right if y' just kid 'em along now and then!"

"My dear, I think it's positively sickening, the way that woman tries to come in here and run things!"

At the ladies' defence league headquarters, showing the military tactics involved, when Bessie reports a 'phone message to her senior officer.

One of those hot, damp mornings when all the debutantes have sneaked out of town and only the committee is left to struggle on.

The hired packer and the voluntary helper.
