

T. P. O'Connor, the Irish Nationalist leader, now in this country on a special mission regarding the coming Irish Convention. Press Illus Serv

President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in their box at the recent baseball game between the Democrats and Republicans of the House, the team composed of the former winning. © Harris & Ewing, from Paul Thompson

Miss Ruth Law, America's premier aviatrix, wearing her new non-commissioned officer's uniform of khaki, a privilege recently granted her on account of her recruiting services. Underwood & Underwood.

George M. Church, the well-known tennis crack, is one of the Princeton men studying aviation at the Mineola training camp. America's Press Assoc

Baron Moncheur, formerly Belgian Minister to the United States and now head of the Belgian War Commission visiting America. Intern. Film Serv.

On the right: Wm. H. Vanderbilt, son of Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who perished in the Lusitania massacre, now doing his bit as an enlisted man in the Naval Reserve Corps. Intern. Film Serv.

On the left: Raymond B. Fosdick, of New York, in charge of safeguarding the morals of American military camps. Harris & Ewing, from Paul Thompson

W. H. Thompson, Mayor of Chicago, who has been threatened with impeachment for alleged anti-Ally acts and utterances. The present strife between him and his City Council is over school board appointments. Press Illus Serv.

Above: President Wilson's son-in-law, Francis B. Sayre, who sailed June 30 for France to organize Y. M. C. A. work for our troops overseas. Underwood & Underwood.

On the right: A recent picture of the new boy king of Greece, Alexander, who succeeded to the throne when his father, King Constantine, abdicated. Intern. Film Serv.

On the left: His Majesty King George at a recent inspection of Australian troops in England. Underwood & Underwood

Ernest Mezey, of Jersey City, and his seven sons—those not old enough to be in the regular army or National Guard belong to the Boy Scouts. No conscription necessary in this family. International Film Service

On the right: Doctors and nurses of the Chicago Ambulance Unit being entertained by Sir Thomas Lipton. Sir Thomas wears the honorary badge of a Chicago constable.

