

Pacific Coast sharks visit the Atlantic, but they are the inflated rubber variety. Here's the way the bathers at Long Beach take to these ferocious looking though harmless monsters—at fifty cents the hour.
Amer. Press Assn. & Intern. Film Serv.

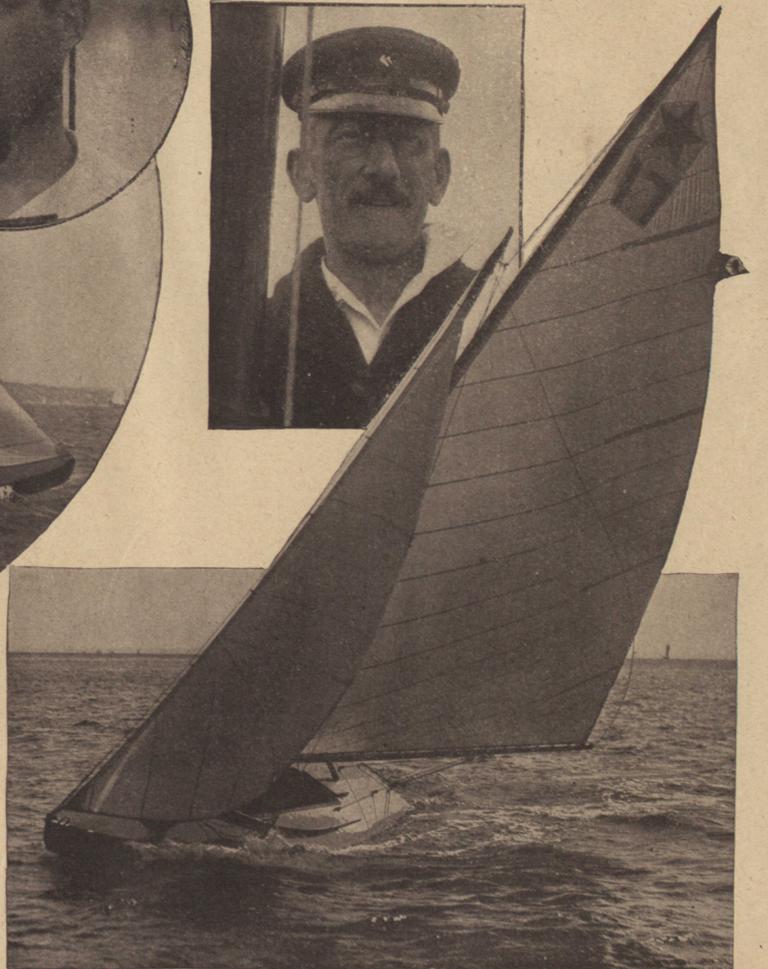

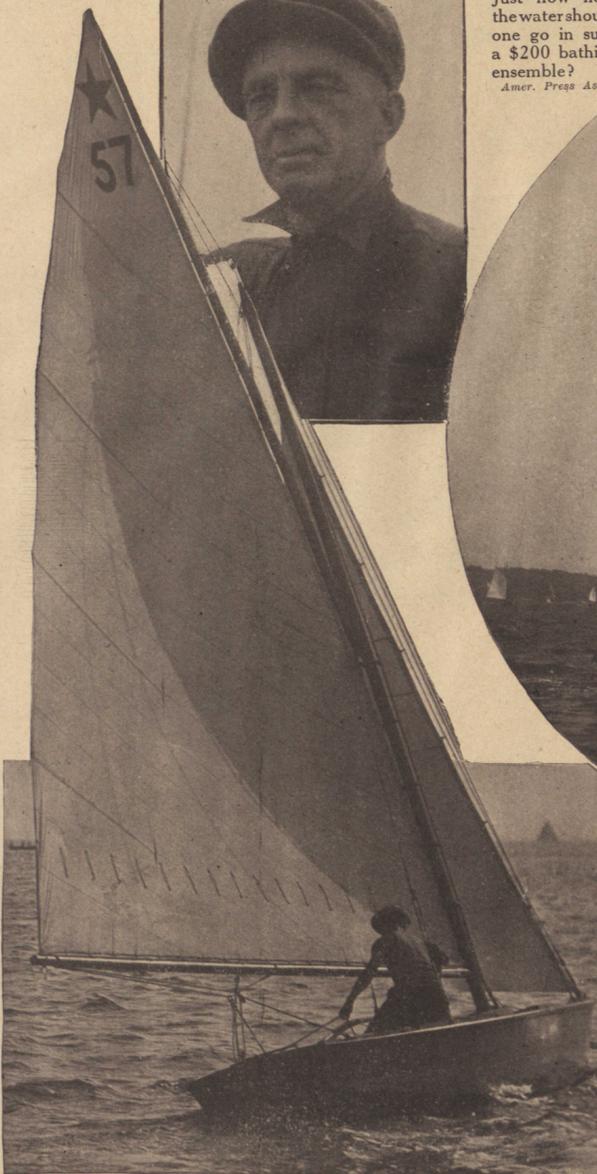

Miss Hazel Henry, a popular Brooklyn lassie, tries out for the first time her stunning Gidding bathing outfit on the sands at Long Beach. Just how near the watershould one go in such a $200 bathing ensemble?
Amer. Press Assn.

A truly unusual sight—a British ensign flying over a German ensign on a captured German mine-laying submarine. The U-C5 is 140 feet long, and mine-laying apparatus replaces the usual torpedo tubes.
British Off. Photo. from Bain News Serv.

A human flag of Atlantic City bathers was one of the striking features of that city's elaborate Independence Day festivities.
H. D. Smith, from Underwood & Underwood

Three brilliant Stars and their three popular skippers. From left to right: "Buck" Hyde and his Hydra, 1916's big winner with 19 firsts and a number of seconds and thirds; "Eddie" Willis and his Altair, at the top of the class so far this year, and "Cap" Corry, the daddy of the Stars, and his Little Dipper. The Stars constitute the largest and most successful class of small racing boats in the New York district. Manhasset Bay is the home waters of these three.
Photos by Levick.