

"Commodore" George W. Scott of Larchmont entertains his guests, Mr. and Mrs. Schmolck of Holland, aboard his splendid 70-foot schooner yacht "Miladi."
E. Lestick.

"Arretez!" A French sentry halts a dispatch car in the Vosges. Safety first is the best policy for motorists the world over.
Underwood & Underwood.

Four youngsters in the Pony Class at the recent Islip, L. I., Horse Show for the Red Cross. From left to right—Miss Alice de G. Belmont, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Belmont, Jr.; Miss Jean Hollins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hollins, Jr., of "Crickhollow," E. Islip; Master Paul Stone, son of Fred Stone, the popular acrobatic actor; and Master August Belmont, III, on his pony Silver Tail.
Photos by Van Sicken and B. G. Phillips.

Lincoln in Edinburgh, Scotland—the only statue of our martyred president in the United Kingdom. Erected in 1893 in memory of the Scottish-American soldiers who fell fighting for the Union in our Civil War. This photo was taken last July 4th, and shows the Independence Day decorations.
Central News.

On the right—Mother Rita of Monastir, the famous Serbian prophetess who foretold the two Balkan wars, the death of Archduke Ferdinand, and the European war. She predicts that the Serbs will conquer Vienna on the day of old King Peter's death. And stranger things have happened.
Underwood & Underwood.

On the right—a striking view from the bow of the U. S. S. Oklahoma, speeding at 21 knots an hour.
Central News.