

Captain Duval, famous French aviator, belongs to the same squadron—the Storks—of which the noted Guynemer is a member. Notice the insignia on the side of the aeroplane; also the manner in which the Lewis machine gun is attached near the pilot's seat. It can be quickly raised or lowered or swung in any direction.

French Official from Pictorial Press.

The Hawaiian National Guard of 4,000 men is eager to go to the front. The first picture above shows troops parading on King Street, Honolulu; all officers are Hawaiians. Three companies are Hawaiians, three Filipinos, one Chinese, and the others mixed companies. The lower photo shows the Philippine Islands National Guard on parade through the streets of Manila. They have offered their services to President Wilson.

Press Ill. Serv.

Secretary of War Baker presents commissions to student officers at Fort Myer, where 1,800 received their eagerly awaited reward after three months of hard, intensive training

Press Ill. Serv.

Above—Well disguised by bandages, two wounded Canadian soldiers depart for 'Blighty,—the Tommies' favorite word for England.

Am. Press Assn.

Below: Troops of the 1st Arizona Infantry at target practice with a Vickers machine gun in the Calumet and Arizona smelting section.

The Chinese Republic had a narrow escape the other day when General Chang Hsun persuaded the child emperor to proclaim the return of the old order. The republican armies besieged Peking and soon put an end to the rebellion. The pictures above were just received in this country. Troops in the steel car are leaving for Peking. The hottest fighting occurred at the entrance of the Forbidden City, shown in the square picture above. A victorious republican flag waves over the sandbags behind which troops are crouching.

Photos Press Ill. Serv. & Underwood & Underwood